

Financial aid funds are available to pay tuition, fees, room, food and books (if the student contracts with CSI for housing and/or food, books). The CSI Business Office disburses all financial aid funds in excess of these charges to the student or parent. With your permission, CSI can apply your excess financial aid award to your student account to pay other educationally related charges. These charges may include: traffic/parking fines, library fines, Student Health fees, late fees, reinstatement fees, and returned check

