

The College of Southern Idaho Surgical Technology program currently provides clinical education to students by assigning student to clinical rotations.

During your time in the program you may be assigned to attend clinical in one of the following "contracted" clinical sites.

While most of these clinical sites are "local" some will require travel (depending on where you live).

1. Cassia Regional Medical Center in Burley, Idaho
2. Center for Plastic Surgery in Twin